

DECLARES PANHANDLE IS RICH IN CLIMATE

"The weather may be a time-worn topic of conversation," said John F. Monning yesterday afternoon, "but I'm going to risk critical comment by referring to the very special and superlative brand which has been dispensed to residents of this city and section during the past few weeks. No more bracing or tonic atmosphere could be found on the globe today than ours."

"The people have special cause for thankfulness on account of the rare climatic conditions. A letter from my daughter, who is now in Orono, Maine, states that during the past few days she has witnessed sunshine, rain, snow, sleet, hail, earthquake and gales which would make a Panhandle wind seem like a summer zephyr. Whatever discouragements we may encounter in this developing section, we are rich in incomparable ozone and glowing sunshine and ought to be happy on that account alone."

Miss Monning, he stated, would return to Amarillo some time in February or March. During her absence she has visited New York, Chicago, Indianapolis, Lafayette, Columbus, Boston and other New England points in the interest of the society of which she is president.

EXPERTS COMING TO SWINEBREEDERS MEET

Letters from various sources to Secretary Holman of the Chamber of Commerce indicate that the meeting of the Panhandle Swinebreeders' Association in Amarillo on January 17 and 18 has aroused keen interest, and that a large attendance may be expected.

Advices from Major Duffel of Claude, president of the association, are to effect that the outlook for a notably successful convention is most promising. Major Duffel stated that all the railroads coming into Amarillo have granted a fare of one and one third for the meeting.

Major Duffel also stated that he was in receipt of a letter from Swift & Co., stating that they were having Prof. John J. Ferguson prepare a special paper to be read before the meeting.

In addition to this feature, comes announcement that H. M. Cottrell, agricultural commissioner of the Rock Island lines, will be here to address the convention on matters relative to swine-breeding in this section.

THREE COMMITTEES AT WEEKLY DINNER

The Freight Traffic Bureau and the Catholic Academy committees met last night with the Executive Committee at the regular weekly dinner at the Hotel Amarillo, and the usual business was set aside for a social get-together affair.

Some thirteen were present, and following the gustatory indulgence, the party repaired to the Chamber of Commerce arm-chairs and indulged in a general discussion of matters of interest to the organization and the city at large.

A review of the fight for lower rates was given by Chairman Stinson of the Traffic Bureau and others who have been aggressively connected with the campaign, and these expressed renewed confidence in the successful outcome of the supplementary hearing which will be granted Amarillo before the Interstate Commerce Commission in St. Louis, beginning December 28.

Ballard's SNOW LINIMENT

Is the Right Remedy for All Abrasions of the Flesh.

If the wound is cleaned and the liniment applied promptly, the healing process begins at once and the wound heals from the inside outwardly, thus forming a scab that keeps the wound from becoming a sore. If the wound is not treated at once, it will form a sore under the surface and break out into a running sore that is hard to cure and inevitably leaves a bad scar.

Owners of blooded stock prefer this liniment to all others for that reason, and they use it not only on one animal, but on human flesh, as it does its work quickly and thoroughly.

EPTING'S COUNSEL HERE ON BUSINESS

Judge A. J. Fires of Childress and Walter B. Scott of Fort Worth, attorneys for Beach E. Epting, whose trial on charge of complicity in the murder of Al. G. Boyce, Jr., will be called during the incoming January term of the District Court at Memphis, were here yesterday on matters of importance in connection with the case.

Judge Fires stated that the court term at Memphis opens on December 30, but that the Epting case would be called before the following week, at the earliest. The attorney stated that a list of important witnesses from this point would be summoned to appear before the Memphis court.

During the day, subpoenas issued from Memphis, were received by Sheriff Burwell for service on some fourteen defense witnesses at this point. Mention has already been made of the fact that twenty-seven witnesses for the state had been summoned, and it is believed that this number, as well as the number of defense witnesses, will be increased in advance of the date of trial.

Mortuary

BELL—James S. Bell, aged 32 years, died yesterday morning at 3 o'clock after a lingering illness, at the family residence, 310 West Seventh street. Funeral services, conducted by Rev. W. P. Jennings, pastor of the First Christian church, were held yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Eadie parlors, interment following in Llano cemetery. The funeral was under the auspices of the local Masonic lodge.

Mr. Bell came to Amarillo from Hope, Ark., several years ago and was connected for some time with the Santa Fe as chief dispatcher. His health failing, he went to California in May of the present year in search of benefit from climatic change, but returned home two weeks ago, and has steadily declined since that time.

Mr. Bell was well known and widely esteemed in railroad circles. He is survived by a wife and two children, and a brother, Edgar S. Bell, who is a telegraph operator in the Santa Fe office.

THOM—Andrew Thom, aged 41 years, died Thursday afternoon at St. Anthony's Sanitarium, as the result of an incurable malady which brought him to this point some two weeks ago from Indiana in search of relief.

The remains are being held by the Griggs establishment, pending advices from the Masonic lodge at Miami, Ind., and the Elks at Bloomington, Ind.

The decedent is survived by his wife, who accompanied him to this point, and was with him at the time of dissolution. Mr. Thom was a live stock dealer in his home city, but was forced from active business by ill health some months ago.

It is deemed probable that interment will be made in Amarillo.

ELKS CHRISTMAS TREE READY FOR TRIMMING

Green and symmetrical, one of the goodliest specimens of Nature's growing in the way of a Christmas tree now graces the halls of the Elks Home, its sturdy branches awaiting the generous burden of gifts which will be dispensed by the order to the poor children of the city on the afternoon of Christmas Day.

The tree has not yet been stationed in the large upper room, but this will be done within a day or so. In the meantime, plans are being rapidly perfected with a view of making the gift-giving even more notable than on last Christmas.

Secretary Hunt of the Elks lodge yesterday made visits to the homes of the poor on the outskirts of the city, even stopping at the tents with which certain sections are dotted. At each place visited urgent invitation was extended, and this invitation is made even more pressing through these columns to all the poor children of the city.

It is the ardent desire of the Elks that no one be overlooked. Every poor child in the city is asked to call at the Elks home by 2 o'clock in the afternoon of Christmas Day, and any citizens who may know of needy ones are requested to report by telephone to Secretary Hunt with promptness.

POULTRY ASSOCIATION COMMITTEE TO MEET

A meeting of the executive committee of the Panhandle Poultry Association will be held this afternoon in the office of City Tax Collector T. W. McBride, the new president of the organization, beginning at 3:30 o'clock.

Matters of importance to the organization will be considered. A checking of accounts following the recent poultry show will be made, and plans will be discussed for holding a larger and greater show here next year.

The officers are enthused over the success of the last exhibition here, and are confident that they will be enabled to make even greater showing next year, in the event full co-operation and support are given by the business men of the city.
